TORONTO TIDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McKenzie, of Aurora, came down to attend the Byrne funeral on November 22d, and attended our service next day. While here they were the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wellcup.

Mr. Walter Bell, of Oshawa, was the speaker at our service on November 22d, and gave a very fine address on "Trusting God." It came in very acceptably following the death of Mr. J. R. Byrne. Mrs. Nancy Moore, very charmingly rendered "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," that fitted the occasion. Mrs. Bell was also up from Oshawa for that week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Roberts, along with the latter's niece, Miss Mildred G. Squirrel, were invited for a motor trip to Jarvis by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Holt for the week-end of November 22d, and all had a pleasant time. A large gathering of Mrs. Roberts' relatives gathered at the home of his sister, Mrs. Ben. Johnson, near Jarvis, on Saturday evening to meet the Toronto visitors.

After the death of Mr. J. R. Byrne, at seven in the morning of November 21st, the Great Reaper returned to our midst again the same day, and claimed another deaf friend, in the person of Mr. Ernest W. Hagerman, who, after a long illness, yielded to the inevitable and passed out of these shadows of worry and woe into the sublime life, in his sixty-third year. The deceased came here from Woodstock, N. B., several years ago, and has lived with his brother on Hurndale Avenue, ever since. He was a bachelor and of a very quiet and unassuming disposition, and did not mingle with his deaf friends to any great extent. To his brother he left all his property, including several thousand dollars. His remains were interred in Norway Cemetery, and a number of the deaf attended his funeral on November 24th.

Our Bible Class enjoyed another treat on November 26th, when Mr. Norville Thayer, a young Bible student, gave a short but very interesting sermon on how we are kept within God's power, with Mrs. J. R. Byrne interpreting. Mr. Thayer, who is hardly over twenty years of age, is preparing to go as missionary to the Egyptian Soudan, once the battle ground between the Egyptian forces under Lord Kitchener, and the wily Dervishes under the great chieftain, El Soud.

Mr. Percy Allen, who has been unemployed for many months past, is now employed by the York Township Council out, near Lambton Mills. No wonder the JOURNAL goes everywhere and arouses great interest far and wide. Among the many letters, containing news items, that come to the writer daily, was an interesting one from Mr. Joseph B. Seidler, of Regina, Sask., in which he speaks very highly of the JOURNAL, and also gives an interesting narrative of his career, which in part is reproduced herein. He came from Roumania two years ago, and settled in Regina. He wanted to go to the Winnipeg School for the Deaf, but that school was then overcrowded, and for a year he waited for a chance without learning anything. He did not know how to write English. Finally he went to the Mackay school in Montreal, Que., in September, 1929, and learned a lot of the English language, and left in June last, for Regina. He was only in school seven months, when he was seized with an attack of rheumatism that forced him to go to a hospital in Montreal, and another month in the institution sick room, but in this short time he gained a considerable amount of knowledge of English. While at Montreal, he visited the deaf at their club room at the Mount Royal Hotel, and attended the first banquet of the Montreal Association of the Deaf, and had a grand time. When he left Roumania he was sixteen years of age, and is not nineteen now. Before coming over, he attended the school for the deaf in Gemovitz, Bucumia, Roumania (Institut De Surdo-Mut—"Regina Maria" De Gemovitz) eighth grade, and was awarded a diploma in June, 1928, so he now better versed in the Roumanian language than the English. After the great World War he went with his mother to see his father in a hospital in Vienna, Austria, his father having been wounded in the war. While in Vienna he consulted a noted ear specialist, but without any good result. Returning to Roumania, they later moved to Prague, Czechoslovakia. In 1919, they again moved back to Roumania, and in 1928, came to Canada, and the whole family settled in Regina, where they are now.

BOBCAYGON BRIEFS

The passing on of Mr. J. R. Byrne in Toronto, on November 21st, came as a great shock to his many friends here. Mrs. Stanley B. Wright was on the verge of going up to attend his funeral, but was prevented from going at the last minute. However, we extend sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

Mr. Jack Wright went up to Toronto some time ago, and at time of writing, is still in the "Queen City." He is a dyed-in-the-wool hockey fan, and attended the match on November 15th, and his parents do not begrudge the pleasure he derives therefrom.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley B. Wright went out to see their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Preston, in Peterboro, for the week-end of November 22d, and the Prestons returned here with them, and then left for Toronto to spend a couple of days shopping, and taking in the Winter Fair during its closing days.

Mrs. S. B. Wright and Mrs. Fred Preston went up to Toronto, on November 28th, to meet a relative, who had just arrived there from Winnipeg with the body of her mother for burial at Bolton, Ont.

FT. QU'APPELLE QUESTS

Mr. Robert Hanson has returned to his home in Regina, after over a two-months' delightful visit in various parts of the East, looking fine and weatherbeaten.

A grand reception was recently given by Mrs. Ham, a hearing friend of Miss Bertha Nicholls, in honor of Mrs. Adams, the organizer of the Qu'Appelle Ladies' Curling Club on October 31st, and among the guests was Miss Nicholls, who is one of the club's most ardent supporters. She is going to curl again this season, and we wish her all good luck.

Mrs. Banks, who was formerly Miss Emma Kennedy, and a trained nurse, is now living in Moose Jaw, and close to the home of Miss Bertha Nicholls' niece, Mrs. Jones. Many of the deaf will remember Miss Kennedy, when she was on the nursing staff at the Belleville school for three years, in days gone by. Mrs. Banks has not forgotten the many deaf she met while at the Belleville school. Miss Nicholls was very glad to meet her recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hawkins and family are now living in North Lipton, and about eleven miles from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noah LaBelle near Fort Qu'Appelle. Mr. Hawkins' eldest daughter was married to a hearing man last year. Their other daughter is now at the Winnipeg School for the Deaf. They have three deaf sons, Robert, on the farm, and Christopher is living somewhere in the States, while the youngest, now six years of age, may go to the Winnipeg school next year.

Mr. Samuel Hawkins is doing very well as a harness maker in Lipton, and makes many friends. He is a native of Ireland.

Miss Bertha Nicholls reports having a very nice visit with Mr. and Mrs. Noah LaBelle in Fort Qu'Appelle, on October 26th. The LaBelles are doing splendidly and very fond of reading the JOURNAL, as they both hail from Old Ontario. Miss Bertha Nicholls also graduated from Belleville in 1895, then went West.

BRIDGEN BUDGET

Miss Minnie Mason has returned to her home in Forest, after enjoying a few weeks' visit with her uncle and aunt in Strathroy.

Mrs. William Summers, of Shetland, is now in Windsor, attending to her brother, who is very ill, and she may remain up at the border until after Christmas. In the meantime, her hubby is figuring on a bachelor's dilemma.

Mr. Samuel Pugsley was out in Oil City, lately doing some paperhanging. Samuel was also a visitor at the Summers in Shetland.

The news of the death of Mr. J. R. Byrne in Toronto, recently came as a great shock to his many friends here, who extend deepest sympathy to the sorrowing family.

Mr. Samuel Pugsley has a flock of good laying hens, and is getting many fresh eggs every day. His hens are the best layers in his neighborhood.

OTTAWA OPINIONS

Mrs. Nancy Moore and Mrs. Mabel Wilson, of Toronto, were in Ottawa, on November 9th and those, here, who knew them were very pleased to have them again within their circle, to renew their acquaintance and to learn how the world had been treating them since they were here last so many years ago. The two are great contrasts, but as such can get along better than if their qualities and characteristics were both alike. Both seem to have spent a delightful week-end in Ottawa, and breezing through the country from Toronto to Ottawa and back again.

Mr. David Bayne, Ottawa and Toronto's beloved patriarch, is finding the passing years hanging rather heavily, due to an ailment in his right eye, which trouble has never abated and which prevents him from doing much reading; otherwise, he is keeping very well and cheerful and always has a collection of reminiscences of other times. He is always glad to see his friends at his Melgund Street address.

Mr. Arthur Jaffray, of Toronto, delivered a very fine sermon here on November 2d, on the Daily Bread of Life, which was a comparison between the real bread and Christ. Mr. Jaffray has a solidity and coolness in his delivery that carries the subject to his to his listeners.

Mr. Peter McDougall took charge of our "Y" service on November 9th.

Miss Evelyn Hazeltt, of Toronto, that charming debonair damsel, was in Ottawa week-end of November 9th, visiting as usual, with her sister, Mrs. Gerald Hubbard, and, incidentally, her brother, William, was also here. So were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Grooms, of Toronto, and a bunch of outsiders from Toronto and environs. What was the matter with Toronto? Dirty and listeners.

GENERAL GATHERINGS

The deaf of Hamilton, were all surprised and very sorry to hear of Mr. J. R. Byrne's death in Toronto, and extend to Mrs. Byrne and family their deepest sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lloyd, of Brantford, were accompanied by Mrs. J. Lloyd and Mrs. Moynihan to Hamilton, and leaving Mrs. J. Lloyd in Hamilton, picked up Mr. Norman L. Gladow, and then motored on to Toronto, where they attended the funeral of the late Mr. J. R. Byrne, returning the same evening to Hamilton.

Mr. H. Lloyd gave a good sermon on "Jesus, the Great Healer and His sick people," at the Hamilton Mission meeting on November 23d, and a record crowd turned out, and among them, we were pleased to see Mrs. J. Lloyd, of Brantford; Mrs. John Newell, of Milton; Mrs. J. A. Moynihan, of Waterloo, and Mrs. Ida Robertson, of Preston.

The lady members of the Hamilton Mission called to see Miss Fanny Warwick, and are sorry to say that she is now so ill that she must remain in bed all the time. She is extremely bright and talkative, though suffering a great deal.

Mrs. H. Bayliss was at the Hamilton Mission meeting on November 23d. She has recovered wonderfully well from her recent illness.

Mr. Cecil Murtell has gone back to the Belleville school to try and improve his education a bit. He finished school some years ago, and recently tried the examination to qualify for a position in the Hamilton post office, but it is understood he failed, hence his return to school.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher, of London, gave the latter's sister, Mrs. John Taylor, a short call a while ago, and the latter was pleased to know that Mrs. Fisher and her father, who were very sick recently, are on the way to recovery again.

The Hamilton Literary and Social Club met on November 22d, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. Gladow. The secretary gave a brief account of the last meeting, and mentioned that the club now had a total of twenty-five paid-up members. There were a few visitors from outside present. Short stories and a few good jokes were given, and Mr. H. Lloyd gave an account of the club he has carried on for the past eleven years in Brantford. Mr. Carl Harris, who is president of the club, suggested that the next meeting of the club should be postponed till after Christmas, as that is such a busy time for all, and this was approved. Tables were then arranged for card playing and a pleasant evening, enjoyed by all, came to an end in time for all to reach home before midnight.

A very pleasant evening was spent on November 15th, when Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harris entertained a number of their friends at euchre in Hamilton. Prizes were given for the best players, and the boobies as well, and all were very much pleased with their prizes. A table of very delicious refreshments was served, and then a vote of thanks to the genial host and hostess was given by all for the pleasure they enjoyed.

NEWS AND COMMENTS

Owing to our duties as Secretary of the Dixie Association of the Deaf, and Editor of its official organ, we find ourselves unable to keep up with our Dixieland news letters and have been obliged to secure the assistance of Mr. L. H. Marchman, who has agreed to assume the responsibility of conducting this column for the time being. Mr. Marchman is a talented writer and thoroughly familiar with newspaper work and we have no doubt but what he will make this column doubly interesting in the future. We bespeak for Mr. Marchman the hearty co-operation of all friends of this column.—C. L. J.

The annual Halloween social given by Atlanta Division, N. F. S. D., Friday evening, October 30th, at Red Men's Wigwam, was a big success, under the chairmanship of I. H. Marchman, Herbert Williams, J. Ponder and G. G. Weil, aided by Mrs. W. A. Willingham, Lee Cole and L. B. Dickerson. Thirty out of ninety attendants were in costumes which were declared to be the most picturesque ever seen in Atlanta, and prizes were beautiful and useful. The winners, in numerical order, made their own selection of the prizes—something new in Atlanta—and they went home satisfied.

For ladies' prettiest costume, Mrs. Eva Murdoch, mayonnaise set; original, Miss Maxie Morris, cigar ash tray; ugliest, Mrs. L. B. Dickerson, box of candy. For gents' original costume: Horace Sanders, Alarm Clock; funniest, Esteben Ward, Auto safety razor set; ugliest, John Webb, of Detroit, fine hosiery. Numerous other prizes were also distributed to the winners participating in the various games.

Michaels Union, B. Y. P. U. of the Baptist Tabernacle, celebrated the third anniversary of its founding by giving a supper at the Francis Virginia Tea Room Saturday evening, November 8th, with an attendance of sixty-two. The arrangements were in charge of Miss Margie Weaver, and were complete and satisfactory in every detail. Miss Weaver was assisted in the arrangements by Mrs. J. G. Bishop, the B. Y. L. U. leader, and nothing was lacking to make this affair the outstanding event of the year. Mr. L. B. Dickerson acted as toastmaster.

Among the guests present were: Rev. J. W. Michaels, the honor guest; Rev. A. O. Wilson, Rev. S. M. Freeman, Rev. and Mrs. Robert C. Fletcher, Fred J. Coolidge, and Mrs. M. M. Simmons, who acted as interpreter. The supper ended in a regular old time love feast, and everybody was satisfied and happy. During the evening a magnificent bouquet of white and yellow Chrysanthemums was brought in and presented to Mrs. Bishop, the leader, as a token of the love and esteem with which the B. Y. P. U. class holds her. Rev. Mr. Michaels was also presented with a handsome sum of money in remembrance of his years of untiring work, in behalf of the deaf of Atlanta, Ga., and the South.

Sunday, November 9th, was the banner day for attendance at church services in Atlanta. Seventy-nine deaf people were at Rev. S. M. Freeman's morning services, seventy-six at Rev. R. C. Fletcher's afternoon sermon, and sixty-two at Rev. Mr. Michaels' evening service at the Tabernacle. Making a total church attendance for that day of 222. Rev. Fletcher preached a beautiful sermon on the "Quality of Feeling," holding the close attention of his congregation throughout.

Rev. Mr. Freeman's sermon was also a spark of fire to his congregation. He never fails to have an attendance of not less than fifty every Sunday that he preaches. Mr. Freeman passed his seventy-fourth milestone last April, but is still hale and hearty. In fact, his health is much improved since his two years spell of sickness. He has been stationed at the W. F. Crusselle Mission at St. Mark's M. E. Church for the past eleven years.

We notice the comment Mrs. C. C. Colby makes in your issue of November 27th, about Rev. R. C. Fletcher, and appreciate same. Though Mr. Fletcher started his missionary work in the South only last May, he has already established a fine reputation in Atlanta, and throughout the South, as minister and lecturer. The second Saturday and Sunday of each month are his regular and standing appointments in Atlanta.

A play, "Lankey and Chaplin," was staged in the auditorium of St. Mark's Church, Friday evening, November 14th, under the able guidance of Mr. L. B. Dickerson, for the benefit of the Crusselle Mission, of which Rev. S. M. Freeman has for the past eleven years been pastor. Despite the inclement weather it had a good attendance, who declared the show was the best ever held in Atlanta. The cast of characters were:—

Mr. and Mrs. Lankey	Miss Alice Holt
Lila Lankey	Esteben Ward
Ida Lankey	Lee Cole
Freddie Lankey	Andy Spurlin
Charlie Chaplin	Bethel Gann
Black Joe

Owing to the illness of Miss Maxine Morris, who was to have represented Black Joe, the character was taken by Mr. Bethel Gann, who was in Atlanta on his way back to his home to Knoxville, Tenn., after a fruitless search for work in Miami, Fla., and other places. Mr. Gann played the role of Old Black Joe admirably, with only fifteen minutes for rehearsal. At the conclusion of the play Mr. Fred J. Coolidge, Jr., amused the audience with his magic exhibition.

Atlanta had two of the biggest surprises of the season during the same week, by the marriage of Mr. J. F. Ponder to Miss Violet Talbert on November 12th, and Miss Louise Hitchcock to Mr. Leonard S. McLean, on November 15th. Mr. Ponder, the Beau Brummel of the local community, is popular among the young and old. He has been connected with the J. H. Long Printing Company for quite a while. Mrs. Ponder is a charming and well-cultured young lady. Mr. McLean is a product of Alabama, and is a rising young business man, holding a lucrative position with the C. E. Freeman Automobile Company as Auto Mechanic. Mrs. McLean is a young lady of a happy and smiling disposition and very attractive personality, and very popular among the younger set.

The closing of the Georgia School for the Deaf, on November 7th, for want of funds to operate on, shocked the whole deaf population of Atlanta. The shame is on the state for its failure to provide funds to keep the school running throughout the full term. Whether it reopens in January remains to be seen.

Mr. John S. Webb, a Georgia product, but now of Detroit, Mich., took advantage of the temporary shutting down of the Ford plant in that city, by running down here to visit his home folks in Georgia, near Carrollton, making occasional trips to Atlanta. After a three week's sojourn, he left on November 10th, for Detroit, much to our regret.

Tuesday, November 18th, Atlanta emerged from one of the longest spells of uninterrupted rain in its history, ending nine days of constant rain. But after a day of sunshine the clouds returned and occasional showers lasted for several days thereafter.

The Nadrat Women's Club gave a buncos Thanksgiving party on November 26th, at Reunion Wigwam. Mrs. W. E. Gholdston was chairman of the entertainment. Quite a good crowd was present and an enjoyable evening was had by everybody.

Mr. Butler, a teacher at the Georgia School for the Deaf, drove up from Cave Spring to attend Mr. Freeman's services on November 30th. Accompanying him was Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Hattie Stevens, Miss Mary Stokes and another party whose name we failed to obtain. Mrs. Stevens is the daughter of the late Prof. W. O. Connor, of the Georgia School for the Deaf. She and Miss Stokes looked in the best of health and their many Atlanta friends were delighted to see them here.

Ye scribe is slugged up on Ads. at the Atlanta Journal, and is getting a good share of office work. More anon. I. H. MARCHMAN.

Atlanta, Dec. 1.

The Capital City

The writer has just returned home from a few days' visit in Detroit, spending Thanksgiving Day with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. Heide. She attended St. John's Ephphatha Mission Sunday morning, November 30th. A good-sized congregation braved the bad weather—rain and sleet. Miss Agnes Stewart rendered a hymn. A Bible Class that was organized some time ago, was held at 3 p.m., with Mrs. Sadie Failing Spröull leading, assisted by R. V. Jones. After the service Rev. Waters went to Flint to hold services there. St. John's Community League's growing, and the members are holding socials twice each month. In the hall of St. John's Church, a few deaf had waited until the hard rain and heavy winds ceased. No one had an umbrella, but soon there came a hearing woman carrying one. As the deaf watched her enviously, she walked out into the rain. As she raised the umbrella, the top drifted away, and she stood holding just the handle. The deaf turned their heads and laughed. In the afternoon, at 2 o'clock, the Michigan Association of the Deaf held its monthly meeting at the G. A. R. building. The principal discussion was on the rights of the deaf to drive, etc. One of the most enjoyable times is to drive through the new tunnel of the Detroit River to Canada. During the trip through the tunnel lights are ordered dimmed. Absent-minded drivers are finding it difficult to remember to turn on their headlights, after leaving the tunnel at night. There is a sign at the exit.

Miss Mabel Claire Hoyle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Howard Hoyle, of Henderson, N. C., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mabel, to Mr. Walter Watson Hauser, of Washington, D. C. The wedding will take place some time this month. Congratulations and felicitations are pouring on the happy young couple. Mr. Hauser has a fine position at the Government Printing office, and is well known in the city, as "our Walter," and Miss Hoyle is a lovable young lady, and has a great sense of humor. Their host of friends wish them happiness and good luck.

The following article was taken from the Washington Herald of December 2d:—

GALLAUDET GETS IN FLOOR WORK

With all of last year's lettermen back Coach Wally Krug, Gallaudet, is confident that his Kendall Greeners will have a successful season.

Twenty candidates reported several days ago for practice. Manager Chet Dobson is lining up some practice games for the next few days.

The Silents will meet the strong Haverford College quint at Philadelphia on December 12th, their opening game, and the following day will meet Drexel Institute.

Del Cosgrove, the District's leading scorer, is captain of the team this year. Other regulars who are back are Johnny Ringle Bradley, Conrad Hokanson, George Brown and George Wurdeman, Katz and Curtis.

Several deaf from Washington, D. C., attended the football game at Staunton between the Virginia School for the Deaf and Tennessee School for the Deaf Saturday, November 29th. Virginia's team defeated Tennessee team, 8 to 0. On Sunday the deaf numbering forty-three attended the Trinity Church service, preached by Rev. H. Lorraine Tracy.

While C. C. Quinley attended the football game in Virginia, a few Washington ladies, all frizzled accompanied by gentlemen to a card party given by Mrs. C. C. Quinley, Saturday evening, November 29th. Mr. A. Gray, of Oklahoma, a Junior student of Gallaudet College, won the first prize, a case of cards; Mr. H. S. Edington, the second, a linen handkerchief; and Mrs. Robert Boswell won a face towel for the booby. Dainty refreshments were served.

The local papers said that Washington, D. C., holds the championship of the United States in ice-cream consumption per capita population. In fact, ice-cream first became popular here when it was introduced to official society at the White House by Dolly Madison.

The monthly business meeting of the Ladies' Guild of St. Barnabas' Mission was held at the cosy home of Mrs. Grace Ballard, Tuesday evening, December 2d. Special and important business was transacted. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Thomas Wood. Mrs. Ballard assisted by her charming daughter served luncheon.

Mrs. Roy J. Stewart returned home from her week-end visit in New York City in time to teach her class at the Kendall school.

There are many things favorable to the enactment by Congress of a year-round Saturday half holiday law for government employees, yet Congress has been slow and has not arrived at a decision as yet.

The annual election for new officers of Calvary Baptist Mission was held at the deaf department, Monday evening, December 1st. The results were: Prof. Harley Drake, re-elected superintendent of the Sunday School Class; W. P. Souder, assisting pastor; S. B. Alley, secretary, re-elected; Robert Boswell, treasurer, re-elected; trustees, Wallace Edgington, Mrs. R. J. Stewart and Miss Nora Nanney.

The Harding Memorial Stamps go on sale here this month.

The local papers stated that Thanksgiving Day was originally a Fast Day.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Parker and children accompanied Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Edington to Brookmont, Md., Sunday, November 30th, to visit Mr. Edington's cousin, Mr. William Edington Boyd, and family. Mr. Boyd is chief clerk and translator of the agricultural and chemistry department in the Capital City.

The National Literary Society of Washington will be held at the Northeast Masonic Temple Wednesday evening, December 17th. Mr. Gerald Ferguson, known as a jolly young man of Washington, D. C., will give an address. William Cooper (Andy) and Roy J. Stewart (Amos) will give a dialogue. Come and see them. Miss Audie Rogers, a young lady, will give a declamation.

The annual election of officers of the Washington Division, No. 46, N. F. S. D., took place at the Northeast Masonic Temple Wednesday evening, December 3d. The results were: E. E. Bernsdorff, president; Roy J. Stewart, vice-president; Gerald Ferguson, secretary; Louis Pucci, treasurer; Trustees, R. J. Stewart, Jacob Eskin, John McIlvaine; Sergeant-at-Arms, James Taylor.

MRS. C. C. COLBY.

Begin Building Church

DURHAM N. C., November 19—A congregation which cannot hear a sermon and whose rector cannot speak, today laid the foundation for a church building here. It was that of Ephphatha Episcopal Church. All its members are deaf and many are dumb. The Rev. Roma C. Fortune, the rector, is a deaf-mute and delivers his sermons in the sign language.—Ex.

Moving Pictures First Made at Fanwood Forty-five Years Ago

ACCORDING to an article in the December issue of a magazine called Cinema, one of the men in the vanguard of inventing a moving pictures camera, and developing it from an eight-lens affair to a successful single lens, was Augustin Le Prince. He also initiated the art of cinematography by constructing a projecting machine. This will be recorded on a bronze tablet ceremoniously placed upon his workshop in Leeds, England, wherein the apparatus for taking and projecting pictures of persons moving was perfected. The tablet reads as follows:—

Louis Aime Augustin Le Prince had a workshop on this site where he made a one-lens camera and with it photographed animated pictures, some were taken on Leeds Bridge in 1888. He also made a projecting machine and, thus initiated the art of cinematography. He was assisted by his son and by Joseph Whitley, James Wm. Longley, Frederic Mason of Leeds. This tablet was placed here by public subscription.

By a peculiar coincidence Le Prince's experiments were conducted at the New York (Fanwood) Institution. His daughter, Gabriella Marie Le Prince from 1888 to 1915 was a valued teacher of Art at Fanwood, when she retired as teacher emeritus. Her mother, Mme. Sarah E. Le Prince had served in a like capacity for the preceding five years, introducing many improvements in the department. Miss Le Prince left for Leeds two weeks ago, and will remain for several months, where she will be the guest of the promoters of the ceremonies and later of her relatives. She is taking with her the original machinery invented by her father and will be one of the prominent personages taking part.

Augustin Le Prince, in 1835, after years of experimenting, began the actual construction of his photographic model for obtaining movements of pictures in series. Quoting from Cinema, the following paragraphs sufficiently illustrate the experimental efforts at the Institution early in 1886, and the ultimate success achieved:—

At this time Le Prince used the workshop of the Institute for the Deaf, then at 163d Street and what is now Fort Washington Avenue, for the building of his models. He was a great friend of Isaac Lewis Peet, the principal of the school for the deaf, who permitted Le Prince to use the tools and facilities of the institution's well equipped workshop. Joseph Banks, the Institute's engineer, who is still living in New York, assisted Le Prince in much of the mechanical work and recalls many of the inventor's early attempts to photograph and project animated scenes.

Miss Marie Le Prince tells me how, as a little child, she went to the Institute to see her father after darkness had fallen, as her mother was anxious to have him return for dinner. The Institute was in total darkness and the child was somewhat frightened but her familiarity with the building emboldened her to enter when she saw a light shining under the crack of a door.

Entering, she saw her father and Banks operating a curious machine from which the light flooded and which threw dim outlines of a man and some children walking about on the wall beyond. Thus it may well be that the first projected motion picture of Le Prince and the first movie to be seen in America was screened in the Institute for the Deaf, to whom the cinematic art has since proved such a source of pleasure and instruction.

In 1887 he sailed for Europe, after difficulties succeeded in getting transparent celluloid strips, and at last reached the stage of comparative perfection in producing and projecting moving pictures.

On September 16, 1890, Le Prince bade farewell to his brother and boarded the Paris train at Dijon, and from that day until this there has not been the slightest clue to his fate.

An Unusual Distinction

At the Diamond Jubilee of St. Ignatius College, San Francisco, in the Civic Auditorium on October 17th. Prof. Winfield Scott Runde, of the California School for the Deaf, at the request of President Percival Hall, represented Gallaudet College, and he was paired with Dr. George Haley, of the University of Maine, in the procession.

On the platform Prof. Runde was seated third from Archbishop Hanna and Cardinal Hayes. There were eight thousand in attendance, and it is believed that this is the first time Gallaudet College has been given such signal distinction, and probably the first time a Gallaudet graduate had the honor of representing his Alma Mater on such an occasion.

The "Deaf and Dumb" Racket

In an article by William A. Warren, in Portland Oregonian, under the caption of "Those Who Bum and Go," there is food for contemplation and wiser precaution in passing out good coin to beggars with a plausible story of tough luck, and to apparent "cripples," who are not really cripples, and to "deaf and dumb" appeals from those who can speak and hear, and are faking an affliction for the purpose of successful graft from the soft-hearted passers by. Mr. Warren concludes with the following paragraph:—

Here is a rule that has very, very few exceptions: a person actually afflicted in any way does not beg. Hardly ever will you find a blind person or a deaf and dumb person begging. Seldom will you see a man who has been maimed in an "honest accident" trying to get something for nothing. It is the fakery and the ones who deliberately maim themselves in the interest of their "profession" that do "mooching."

Of course, the above does not teach the average bona fide deaf man what he does not already know. But it will help the deaf in general, if their hearing friends are made acquainted with the all-to-frequent libels upon their respectability, pride and good citizenship.

THE DEATH of Augustus W. Kelly is a loss to the deaf whom he had served for many years as Trustee of the Church Mission. As a prominent banker, an equally prominent worker in educational and religious work, his sacrifice of time for assistance in the silent field, showed him to be a good and unostentatious friend of the deaf. He died on December 4th, in his eightieth year. The funeral service was held at the church at which he had long been vestryman and was senior warden—the Church of St. Matthew and St. Timothy—on Saturday, December 6th.

JUST as the JOURNAL is ready for press this week, comes the doleful tidings of the serious sickness of our good friend of Paris, France—M. Henri Gaillard. The hundreds who became acquainted with him and his charming wife at the Buffalo convention, will join with us in the hope that medical care will soon restore his physical health and mental vigor.

Mr. and Mrs. August Wriede announce the birth of Augusta Helen Wriede, at the Women's Hospital, John Street and Lafayette Avenue, Baltimore, Md., on Tuesday, December 2d, 1930, weighing six pounds

CHICAGO

The Chicago Herald and Examiner of December 1st, runs final standings of football teams all over the country. In the Eastern sector, only one team remains unbeaten—an ancient enemy of Gallaudet's, Western Maryland (which was not on the schedule of our tiny college this season.) Following Western Maryland come the names of ranking colleges and universities: Army sixth, Dartmouth seventh, and—bless my soul—there in twelfth rank comes the magic lines:—

"Gallaudet, won 5, lost 1."

This year the Gallaudet schedule had none of the "set-ups," or easy-marks, which enabled fullback Johnnie Ringle to run wild the past two years, taking a leading rank in the high individual point-scorers of the country. This year Ringle scored only 35 points himself, out of the 89 credited to Gallaudet. Johnnie subordinated his individual prestige for the good of the team as a whole—and as a result, for the first time since 1901, Gallaudet figures as a factor in paper-championships.

Despite the "official" box carried in the papers, as stated above, private records of the Chicago office of this JOURNAL show Gallaudet won six, not five; lost one and tied once. Gallaudet scored 89 points to 64 for the opponents. Its sole set-back was a crushing 38 to 0 defeat by the powerful University of Delaware, October 18th. Our records show individual point-scorers were:—

Ringle, 35; Capt. Zieske, 18; Horkanson, 10; while Monaghan, Rayhill, Williams, and another scored one six-point marker apiece.

That "Rayhill" is a Prep—the Jim Rayhill, who last season starred on Robey Burns' Illini. He will be joined next fall by another Jacksonville lad—"Whale" Walnoha, the 176-lb. weightman, who starred against Foltz's jack-rabbits. Two years from now yet another Illini back will enter Gallaudet—quarterback O'Grady, the dash-man who promises to become another Fred Moore.

The "Go to Gallaudet" spirit at our State school has taken a sudden upward bound, since Orman and Mudgett were added to the teaching staff. Young Dan Cloud is making a wonderful record as superintendent of his father's Alma Mater. The late Dr. James Henry Cloud, by the way, played lineman on the first Gallaudet College football team, 1880-'85. Dan's own brother, John, while a Normal, starred at fullback for Gallaudet just before he left to win hero medals overseas during the World War.

There was wailing and desolation and gnashing of teeth when nineteen novitiates—gleamed for Frat ranks in the Gibson Memorial Drive—gingerily tip-toed over the burning sands, November 29th. "The best Frat Smoker since that Silver Jubilee affair," was the unanimous opinion of the 275 passing the sacred portals. Even old Gus G. Grouch himself enjoyed the first hearty laugh in months. It was staged by the "three M's"—Meinken, Miller and Migatz. Plenty of free cigars—Charles Kraft's "Ben's Smoker." For probably the first time in history, a Rochester-educated man sung a sign-song himself—J. Frederick Meagher giving his "Carry On" to Meinken's drum accompaniment, as it was delivered by others at the Buffalo N. A. D. smoker. The affair occurred on the first anniversary of Gibson's final closing of his desk, the last Saturday of November.

Yes, kind sir; 'twas a wonderful smoker. But—hush, I'll tell you a deep, dark secret (just between us two, and don't breathe it to a living soul!) Confidentially, remember. Folks are wondering how come just two dozen of the list of 43 goatees happened to forget the number of the hall, leaving only 19 to saddle Sir Billy, from Parson Purdum's Tobogganbuggy goat-farm. Those two dozen are in for a lot of tall explaining next time they meet the "AEF"—Angry Exponents of Fradom.

Talking about the Frats: The building at 130 N. Wells Street, is taking on an interesting lot of clients. Frat headquarters is on the corner on the ninth floor, and as you step off the elevator you see the name "Morgan Collins" on the first door. That's the ex-chief of police. Local No. 16, of the Typo Union, is just moving in—room 1519—and many fraters will now have the unique distinction of paying dues to two powerful organizations located in the same building.

Renting the spacious parlors of the Illinois Home for Aged Deaf, November 29th, (that few bucks rental helps—good for several meals for our friends) Mesdames Craig, Brimble and O'Neil served a nice soiree. Despite horribly inclement weather, fifty out of the sixty invited guests responded to roll-call. Eleven tables of "500" and one of bunco, for twelve nice prizes. Supper was served at six.

According to a recent report from Springfield, Ill., the Illinois League for Street and Highway Safety, took up the battle to place on the statue books of Illinois a driver's examination and licensing law, and made pleas to the Governor and Legislature to make a law to require an examination of a person's hearing before granting him an auto license. This was in deference to the deaf-mutes. It was pointed out that the hearing examination, caused much opposition to the measure at the last session of the legislature and also it was shown that deaf-mutes are permitted to drive automobiles in eastern States, where drivers' license laws are enforced rigidly. About several hundreds of deaf-mutes in Chicago own cars and are more careful to avoid accidents than hearing drivers.

Rev. Rutherford concluded his preaching tour at Aurora, Ill., November 25th, and came to Chicago for two weeks ago. Rev. Hasenstab, Rev. Rutherford and Rev. Mrs. Elmes, took part in service at the M. E. Mission, Sunday, November 30th. Rev. Rutherford's sermon was followed by a hymn by Miss Cora Jacoba, and Mrs. Elmes closed the service with a prayer.

Mrs. Viola Towne, of Pekin, Ill., is visiting in Chicago for some time. She was seen at the M. E. Mission Sunday, November 30th. She met Miss Alice E. Kesner, whom she had not seen her for thirty-seven years. Both were classmates at the Illinois deaf school, graduating in June, 1893.

Bishop Sheldon M. Griswold, who had All Angels' Mission for the Deaf under his charge, died November 29th, after a long illness. The funeral service for him was held at St. James' Church, where Rev. Flick's flock gathers for a weekly Sunday service. His interment was made at Memorial Park Cemetery, near Wilmette, Ill., Tuesday, December 2d.

Fifteen deaf wood choppers are at work in a woodyard, sawing and chopping cross-ties contributed by the Illinois Central Railway at the Goodwin Industrials, which hope to be able to place one hundred unemployed handicapped men at work.

Mrs. Green, eighty years old, mother of Charles Green is in a hospital suffering serious injuries caused by her fall. When she sat down on a couch's end, she slipped off and fell to the floor.

According to word received here from Missouri, the Missouri deaf school and Illinois deaf school battled to a 6 to 6 tie, in a football game in Fulton, Mo., last Saturday. The Missouri players outplayed their opponents in the first half, but the Illinois boys came back with a strong attack to keep the ball in their possession, much of the last half, scoring 6. The Illinois team was clad in lemon and orange sweaters, with the letters I. S. D. on the front.

Bad weather resulted in a local casualty list, embracing among others Mrs. Meinken with a badly injured wrist; Mrs. Ingval Dahl with a sprained ankle; and several hundreds with badly busted pocketbooks.

Rudolph Tillman went to Springfield on the 30th, and brought back his wife, who had been spending a month with her parents there.

The Pas-a-Pas Club had a three-night tournament of "500" during Thanksgiving.

On the 21st, Frederick Neesam, of Delavan, addressed a good crowd at the Pas-a-Pas—benefit of the Illinois Home for the Aged—on "Man and Measures." He didn't have to brag about his size, just because he and Lincoln and Purdum are great big gawky guys, while the JOURNAL force are mostly pigmies. Ann McGann supplemented this with four numbers of her old vaudeville troupe, and a brand-new one entitled: "Song: 'Love Me and the World Is Mine,' by Mary Garden." This proved to be a satire on oralism by a female impersonator, Elmer Priestner.

"Pop" Warner, Pacific Coast representative of the Big Four, who annually picks an All American football team, places Harlowe Rothert on his second Pacific Coast all-star team, at half-back. This is Rothert's final year in college. His deaf father used to live in Iowa.

The owner of the auto which struck Mrs. William Heywood is paying her expenses in a Maywood hospital.

While attending the Pas-a-Pas Club, November 23d, Mrs. Barr suffered a stroke of paralysis. She was taken home in a taxi, and is reported on the road to recovery. She has never quite recovered from being knocked down and nearly killed by a trolley, a few years ago.

Adolph Mathis has been "laid off" at the Elgin Watch Case plant, after working there steadily the past twenty-two years.

A number of deaf people attended a Thanksgiving service conducted by Rev. Hasenstab at the M. S. Mission November 27th, at 8 p.m.

Miss Vina Smith, former deaconess for the M. E. Mission, is by this time with the Philpotts, at their residence in St. Cloud, Fla.

Thanksgiving Day was observed in a quiet way, with turkey feasts at the homes of the deaf, followed by parties and gatherings at the deaf clubs and missions in the evening.

Norman Ginn was brought home from the hospital this week.

The members of the Frats, No. 1, held a monthly business meeting at the Capital Building Tuesday, December 2d, at 8 p.m.

OHIO

News items for this column can be sent to Miss B. M. Edgar, 56 Latta Avenue, Columbus, Ohio.

According to the Literary Digest, a Dr. Riesz, of the Bell Telephone Company, has perfected an artificial larynx of thin metal and this restores the power of speech to those who have become mute. It is said that by practice one can become very proficient at speaking. Now if some one will just make a metal ear that can make the deaf hear—we shall all be "restored to society" as the oralists say. Yet all these artificial things can never take the place of the sign language to those who have ever used it.

The supper given by All Saints' Mission at Trinity Parish House November 29th, was very successful. Over seventy persons were served and all were well pleased with the food served them. After the supper the mission had a business meeting. Mr. J. Showalter was made president of the mission and Mr. Basil Grigsby became treasurer. Rev. Smielau conducted services the next morning.

The Ohio Home now houses twenty-two women and twenty men as residents. This I believe is the highest number ever in the Home. No doubt the business depression has helped to fill the place.

Mr. Thomas Goldsmith, of Columbus, had fifteen pear trees transplanted from his yard to the orchard at the Home. This is quite a present to the orchard.

Mr. J. Showalter conducted the Sunday services for the residents on November 23d. Somehow it is hard to get volunteers for these services which mean so much to the residents.

The Honorable H. M. Daugherty lives across the street from our late superintendent. In the last Ohio Chronicle, Mr. Daugherty described Dr. Jones as he knew him. He quoted Dr. Jones' last words for publication: "All of those things must be left to our readers, whom we bid goodbye."

Mr. John C. Winemiller was quite puffed up when he received an invitation to Nashville, Tenn., to tell the deaf there how the Ohio deaf had succeeded in managing the Ohio Home. Of course, he accepted and made a stopover in Cincinnati, where he was greeted by many of his friends and former pupils.

While in Tennessee, he enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. T. Marr. It seems the southern deaf are planning to establish a Home in Florida. Success to them, is the wish of the Ohio deaf.

Mr. Charles Miller, our physical director, was called to his home in Tiffin, November 26th, an account of the sudden death of his aged father. His father died from heart failure. Mr. Miller's many friends sincerely sympathize with him in his loss.

The genial Mr. Casper Jacobson motored to Flint, Mich., to witness the game between the Ohio boys, and Michigan. He crowded eight students of our school into his car, and saw them safely back again. Thanksgiving Day was white and bitterly cold. The pupils enjoyed a fine dinner. Instead of each pupil receiving a flower at his or her place in the dining-room, Mrs. Jones sent lovely 'mums from the conservatory to each dormitory and the window sills in the dining-room had vases of 'mums, too. This the children appreciated more than handling a flower at dinner. The late Dr. Jones always delighted in seeing the children happy on Thanksgiving Day, and he was greatly missed. Mrs. Jones did well in pleasing the children in every way.

Mr. Elasco Burcham enjoyed a ride, all by himself to Lima, November 22d, and attended the social there. Of course, he found Mr. George Kinkel, from the Home there, too. Mr. Kinkel bobs up at every meetings of the deaf. He simply cannot miss any gathering.

Mr. Philip Holdren left his wife and little daughter long enough to go hunting, not many miles from Columbus. We suspect Virginia was singing:—

"By-by-baby
Papa's gone a hunting."

He was with Mr. Otto Seidowski, and the latter brought home not only a rabbit, but a very beautiful pheasant, and is having the latter mounted to keep on exhibition for his friends to see. Mr. Holdren succeeded in getting two rabbits, but no pheasant.

Mrs. Ella Zell was called to Dayton today, December 2d, on account of the death of a sister-in-law. Mr. Earnest and Miss Ethelburga are to go there tomorrow to attend the funeral of their aunt, who was eighty-five years old.

Miss Mary Kinkel, sister of Mr. George Kinkel, sent in one hundred dollars to Mr. Greener for the Film Fund for the Home. She has always given generously to the Home.

It was found too expensive to keep up repairs on the old moving-picture machine used at the Home, so a new one was purchased. This took most of the money in the Film Fund, so Mr. Beckert, the treasurer, is asking for donations to the fund, so that the old folks can again have the pleasure of seeing pictures. Contributions can be sent to Mr. Beckert, school for the deaf.

Acting-superintendent Abernathy sent out notices on letter day to the parents about the Christmas vacation, which is to begin December 19th. School reopens January 5th.

Mr. Abernathy is being kept very busy, but is showing that he is capable of managing the school, and is pleasing everyone.

The following clipping from a Columbus paper was interesting to the many friends of Mrs. Walter Wark, of Columbus:—

New York, Nov. 19.—A petition for letters of administration in the estate of Mrs. Mabel Ringling, wife of John Ringling, circus man, was made to Surrogate O'Brien Wednesday by two sisters of the decedent, Alma B. Reid, of Sarasota, Fla., and Clara Alice Reid, of Columbus, O. The value of the estate, consisting of personal property in New York, is set at about $750,000, although Mrs. Ringling also owned real estate in Oklahoma valued at "more than $10,000," according to the petition.

ST. LOUIS

Work in St. Louis is in bad shape. We would advise those looking for work to stay away, unless they have a well-loaded wallet.

The Gallaudet Club had a well patronized euchre and bunco party on Thanksgiving evening. Due credit is given Mr. Sylvester Kabel and his assistants.

The Christian Church Silent Bereans had its monthly social at the Church Parlor on the 28th, in spite of the inclement weather, which turned from rain to sleet. A vaudeville of our school days was enjoyed by all present. After the social, all partook of hot coffee and cocoa, with delicious doughnuts and cookies. The social was engineered by Mrs. D. Sanderson and her assistants. We are looking for something good December 26th. Remember the date, so you can have a good time. Those who attended the social had very little trouble in getting home, except Clifford W. Stigleman, who was knocked down by a speeding automobile. We are glad to say there was no serious injury. Only a few bruises and a stiff leg. He was taken to the nearest hospital and sent home. At present he is mending nicely. We do not know at this writing if the auto driver offered to make good the damage done.

The Frats, Division 24, had its annual smoker at the Gallaudet Club on the 29th. There were eleven that had to ride the well taken care of goat. The goat's tricks were full of life, which amused the two hundred in attendance. Refreshments were liberally served, with plenty of smokes. Prof. Fancher brought down a load from Jacksonville, Ill. After the smoker he took them home, because some of the teachers had to be on duty Sunday morning. Those from other cities were: Ed. Brackley, J. Laughlin, Alfred Collins, from Marble Head, Ill.; Mr. R. Hummel, from Quincy, Ill.; Mr. J. Stout, from Benton, Ark. All returned home well pleased with the smoker and the royal treatment the St. Louisians gave them.

The Frisco Railway (November) magazine had a fine write-up of Mr. W. H. Schaub.

On the front page of the St. Louis Daily Globe Democrat magazine November 16th, there appeared a very good likeness of Rev. A. O. Steideman, which gave a description of his struggles from boyhood to a high position as a minister among the deaf.

Mrs. Hartie Bennett, formerly of St. Louis, but now of Kansas City, Mo., took advantage of the excursion rates to visit her sick brother at the Koch Hospital. She says the deaf are doing well, in spite of the unemployment situation.

From the Illinois Advance for November, we clip the following:—

NOTICE TO DEAF AUTO DRIVERS OF ILLINOIS

Having been appointed by the Executive Committee of the Illinois School for the Deaf Alumni Association to gather all data relating to deaf automobile owners and drivers in Illinois, I hereby request that every deaf automobile owner and driver in our State fill out the below questionnaire and send it to me properly signed and self-addressed. Cut and mail this:

Name
Town Illinois
Kind of Car
How long have you been driving
How many miles
Have you had any serious accident causing a bad wreck and injury to other persons?
Date:

Address:
H. A. Molohon, Chairman, Committee I. S. D., Jacksonville, Ill.
Rev. H. S. Rutherford, Chicago, Ill.
A. J. Rodenberger, East St. Louis, Ill.
S. R. Burns, Jacksonville, Ill.
A. Johnson, Rock Island, Ill.

Mr. Charles Fry, who is the president of the Christian Church Silent Bereans, is always the first to be at the meetings, to see that everything is in good shape. He has two fine children who are regular attendants at the junior class, taught by Mrs. Bushman.

Whenever Prof. Peter Hughes, of the Fulton (Missouri) School for the Deaf, is in our town, he calls on a few bosom friends, and then returns to his home. Dear Peter, why don't you show up at the Gallaudet Club some time. All your friends will be glad to see their former teacher.

Edward England, who owns a Ford tudor, is obliged to have David Aut as his driver in the evenings.

Oscar Harrison, a regular cobbler at Broadway and Market Street, has been with the present firm since he moved from Texas. His mother has an up-to-date restaurant at Euclid and Natural Bridge Avenues. It is well patronized by the surrounding merchants and rooming houses. They have two little girls, who seem to be tied together. Whenever one goes to the library, the other is sure to be there.

The Gallaudet Club has chosen Max Blachschleger as chairman of the Board of Managers. We are looking for something good for the club under his chairmanship.

REXY.

SEATTLE

November 29th, about twenty of their friends descended on Mr. and Mrs. Ed Martin at their home in West Seattle, near Lincoln Park. It was a housewarming party, in recognition of the fact that Ed now has good wages and steady work, and that his wife has quit her job for good, and will henceforth devote her time to the care of her home and little son. A collection had been taken up beforehand among the crowd, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin were presented with an electric coffee percolator, as a token of esteem and good-will. Cards were played, and Rex Oliver engineered the good old game of writing from memory the names of a number of articles inspected for a brief time. Lailah Freese took first prize in this, and Mrs. Hanson second. The prizes were red apples, the first prize considerably larger than the second. Several long boards nailed together were put on trestles for a temporary table, and accommodated all present. A regular banquet was then enjoyed. The Martin house of four rooms was built by Ed himself, and Mrs. Martin hung the wallpaper and painted the inside, so that they have a cosy little place.

There was a brother of Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Rolph present at the party, Mr. Herman Seipp, Yakima, and his bride of several months. The young couple were married early in September, and young Mrs. Seipp is greatly enjoying her visit to Seattle and the chance to shop in the stores here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rolph took Thanksgiving dinner with the Martins and the newlyweds at the Martin house. Frank, being an expert cook, roasted the turkey.

Jack Bertram won a twelve-and-a-half pound turkey at bowling, and on Thanksgiving Day, Miss Sophie Mullin, Mr. and Mrs. Reeves, and Mr. Dortero were invited to sample it with the Bertram family.

Mr. Lloyd Henry, of Monroe, has been visiting one of his aunts for the past couple of weeks. It is very quiet in Monroe during the winter, and Lloyd likes to be within reach of the deaf gatherings.

November 23d, Mrs. Victoria Smith was hostess at a little dinner party, to which she invited Miss Sophie Mullin, Mrs. Pauline Gustin, and the Hansons.

The P. S. A. D. board of officers had a meeting at the Hanson house on November 26th, and various matters were discussed. As the association cannot have the Pure Milk Dairy room after December, it was decided to hold the January meeting in the Seaboard Building, at 4th Avenue and Westlake. After business was over the meeting turned into a card party.

The Tuesday Bridge Club met November 18th, and there were three full tables and several lookers on.

Mrs. Pauline Gustin took her Thanksgiving dinner with her son, Paul.

Father Higgins, the Redemptorist priest, was in Seattle for several days, and held a service for the Catholic deaf and their friends at the Church of the Sacred Heart. Father Higgins has a fine command of signs, and it is to be regretted that he could not stay longer.

Miss Doris Nation had a small party in her room at St. Teresa's the evening of November 16th. It was in honor of Mrs. John Conley, and besides the guest of honor and the hostess, there were present Mrs. Victoria Smith, Miss Sophie Mullin and Mrs. Hanson.

John Dortero had a collision recently, in which his car sustained some damage. The repairs were paid for by the insurance company.

J. Cooke Howard left on the evening of November 22d, for Kalamazoo, Mich., where he will spend Thanksgiving with his daughter, Betty, and her three children. A letter received from him in Chicago tells of his comfortable trip from Seattle eastward. At Spokane Mr. O'Leary and several other friends met his train.

A letter from Arvid Rudnick, a pupil at the State school, tells of his purchasing from Mr. Divine the fruit of an apple tree while it was still on the tree. He boxed it himself, and obtained seven boxes of apples. He is now enjoying them every day, and as he obtained them at a very low price he feels that he has done a good stroke of business.

GALLAUDET COLLEGE

By Andy Mack and Alice McGunn

After having withstood the action of the elements for years, the Chapel Tower clock has had its face lifted. Today the passerby on Florida Avenue, the students on the campus, and the boys from their rooms are benefiting from the new faces recently applied. Sparkling in the light, the shining gold faces make the timepiece all the easier to read, both at day and night.

But one week remains before the first term examinations will get under way. This year the examinations will be held on December 18, 19, 22 and 23d. Christmas vacation will be shorter than usual, with only five days of rest scheduled for the hard working students.

Miniature golf, that craze which has seized young and old, has arrived at Gallaudet. It is now fashionable for the boys and girls to trek to a course nearby on Sundays for a few rounds. It is claimed by a certain Prep lad that this sport eases the nerves after grueling hours of study in geometry. He states that the theorems learned in geometry have helped him to measure the angles more accurately and this knowledge has cut down his score considerably. Isn't it logical then, that Bobby Jones might have been a good mathematics instructor to develop into such a fine golfer? Rain or shine, the boys and girls go a golfing anytime. Whether or not miniature golf of the indoor type is beneficial to the health and figure of participants is not yet known. But as a reducing agency, one young lady recently discovered that several pounds of flesh had mysteriously melted away after three hours of the strenuous pastime.

A regular meeting of the Literary Society was held Friday evening, December 5th, at 7 p.m. While the program was short, the varied topics served to keep the audience in all states of exhilaration.

Professor Frederick H. Hughes '13, rendered a reading entitled "Qui," which was overflowing with funny reminiscences of English army life. Several officers stationed in the same fort all in love with the same lady and with some petty jealousies between them—a new war almost started before an unexpected end closed the affair to the satisfaction of all. Crisp, clear, and uniform signing made a lasting impression on the audience of the ability of Prof. Hughes.

Two frosh, Hugh Stack and Seth Crockett, put up a dialogue skit called, "A Lunatic's Advice to His Keeper." Stack as the keeper, and Crockett as the feeble-minded lunatic, displayed some original mirth-provoking stunts.

Max Mossell, '33, closed the meeting with a declamation, "The Great Emancipator." This was one of the best exhibitions of rapid sign making in declamations seen this year. Mr. Mossell has shown marked improvement during the past year.

Amid the downpour of rain and the inclement weather conditions prevailing, over 150 persons attended the annual football dance held in the gymnasium last Saturday evening.

Gaily decorated for the occasion, the gym was resplendent with newborn beauty. Never in the years that have gone by has the old building been so attractive to the eye. The college girls, like rosebuds fresh from the vine, were clad in evening gowns of all colors. No longer mere slips of girls, they apparently had suddenly matured to the debutante stage. With the Faculty and their families taking part, dancing was the main programme of the evening. A radio, so powerful that everyone was able to hear or feel the music, made the affair all the more enjoyable.

The hard-working committee responsible for the great success included: Max Friedman, '31, chairman; John O'Brien, '32; George Lynch, '33; George Brown, '34; and Gerald Adler, P. C. Refreshments were served to the tired couples throughout the evening. At a late hour ice-cream and cookies were partaken, and at the stroke of eleven the march down "Love's Lane" to Fowler Hall commenced.

Saturday, Dec. 27.—Basketball; vs. Southern University at Kendall Green.
Monday, Dec. 29.—Second term begins.

Having enjoyed one of the most successful football seasons in years, the Blues are already looking forward to an even better year next fall. To replace the loss of captain, Paul Zieske, the boys have selected the best showman on the team. For the past four years, starting in as a Prep, a "tough, rough and ready Irishman" from the "wilds of Mississippi" has made it very unpleasant for the opposition around his position. For four years he has held his post against all comers, and during the last three years he has been the outstanding linesman, not merely flashing form, but showing a consistency often heard, but seldom seen. You have heard of this player—he is none other than Bilbo "Mule" Monaghan, left end and captain-elect. Monaghan will lead a collection of players that will include every one of this year's aggregation, except captain Paul Zieske, Konrad Hokanson and Alfred Marshall.

Marshall, Barnes, Gambin and Hnatow were out of competition much of the season, because of injuries. Barnes sustained the most serious injury, a sprained ankle, in midseason which kept him on the sidelines during the rest of the schedule.

Basketball has taken the attention of the sport-loving students. With twenty candidates hard at work, Coach Walter Krug sees a bright season ahead, but this year the competition will be much stiffer than last season. Although last year's varsity is back intact, the Blues will face some of the best small colleges and will have to work fast to prepare for them.

This week the first two games will be played away from home in Philadelphia on Friday and Saturday evenings against Haverford College and Drexel Institute. Drexel will be met in Curtis gymnasium at Drexel on Thirty-second and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia, at 8 p.m.

Following is the 1931 basketball schedule:—

Dec. 12.—Haverford College at Philadelphia
Dec. 13.—Drexel Institute at Drexel, Philadelphia
Dec. 27.—Southeastern University at Kendall Green
Jan. 3.—Strayer Business College at Kendall Green
Jan. 7.—University of Maryland at College Park
Jan. 9.—American University at American University gym
Jan. 10.—Columbus University at Kendall Green
Jan. 17.—St. John's College at Annapolis
Jan. 23.—Maryland State Normal at Towson, Md.
Jan. 31.—University of Baltimore at Kendall Green
Feb. 4.—Catholic University at Brookland, D. C.
Feb. 7.—Benjamin Franklin University at Kendall Green
Feb. 14.—Southeastern University at Washington, Y. M. C. A.
Feb. 20.—Maryland State Normal at Kendall Green
Feb. 27.—Drexel Institute at Kendall Green
March 6.—Shepherd College at Shepherdstown, West Va.

At last the college has a bus named in its honor. A new $16,500 motor coach which took the boys to Johns-ton, Pa., was christened "Miss Gallaudet" by Miss Elizabeth Peet. Before a crowd of well-wishers, Miss Peet, acting as sponsor, broke a bottle of "pre-war" beer over the port side of "Miss Gallaudet." Having started the trip in this impressive manner, the boys brought home another victory the following evening.

Taking another step forward, the Library now boasts of a new filing cabinet. A modern file, one part of which eventually will contain all the data useful for debates, and another part will keep on file the work of "Gallaudetans" and other literary work by the deaf. Miss Nelson, the "always busy" librarian, hopes this will improve the library and expedite service.

Headed by Misses Martino, Corretti, Bridger & Co., the Junior girls now wear the indoor baseball crown of the campus. By going through the intramural schedule without defeat, the '31 aggregation won the championship. With the aforementioned lassies doing the bulk of the hard work, the rest was easy, what with the brains of "Texas duet" Dyer and Watson. Quick! Watson, find my glasses and look over the clues, Sherlock. All the other classes claim to be tied for second place. Exactly how that can happen in an intramural schedule cannot be explained—give the credit for that brilliant scheme to the Preps.

OMAHA

Omaha Division's great bazaar came off Saturday, November 15th, with colors flying, and the local Frats are a few hundred dollars richer. The Benson committee, composed of Robert E. Dobson, chairman; Riley E. Anthony, Albert M. Kloppling, Albert L. Johnson, F. Arthur Clayton and Karel Maack, had worked for two or three nights a week for several months. The gala affair was held at the I. O. O. F. hall in Benson. Threatening weather cut down the attendance somewhat. Benson merchants and others contributed donations. Nearly one thousand tickets were sold by the local Frats, the committee alone selling over four hundred, and the blue ribbon snatcher for the most tickets sold was Albert M. Kloppling, who disposed of nearly two hundred. On account of the annual football clash between the Nebraska and Iowa schools at Council Bluffs, the crowd in the afternoon was rather slim, but in the evening, more than one hundred and fifty packed the hall. Quite a few from Council Bluffs were seen, and Lincoln sent a car-load. From Des Moines, Ia., came Messrs. John Sullivan, Albert Buttner and John Dafoe. A newly wedded couple, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob A. Oordt, of Orange City, Ia., were popular among the younger set. They are a pleasant couple. Mr. Oordt is a graduate of the Iowa school, and his bride was Irene Kail, who had one more year to finish. A good many, also, came from Nebraska towns. A beautiful hand-made quilt, sold by the Benson ladies, was won by the Don Quixote, Eugene McConnell, printing instructor at the I. S. D. The only thing lacking is the bride. Ray Wright, who drove from Yankton, S. Dak., with Archie Chase, won a handsome electric toaster; Hans Neujahr, an alarm clock, and Bennie Delchoy, a pretty table lamp. Of the five door prizes, Fred Randolph was the only winner among the deaf, and he won ten dollars in gold. Coffee, doughnuts and sandwiches were sold, as also were dozens of sacks of groceries, valued at seventy-five cents each, and dozens of one-pound cans of coffee went like hot cakes. An expert magician gave some amusing tricks, and the ladies were busy at the candy and fancy-work booths. Around one o'clock in the morning, the last committee member left for home, with the memory of a good deed accomplished for Omaha Division. Our hats off to the noble "Benson gang," and Benson "Aux-frats."

Mr. and Mrs. Riley E. Anthony were given a surprise party, Monday evening, November 17th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Clayton, complimentary to their seventeenth wedding anniversary. They received a handsome crystal water set. Over a dozen friends were present.

We question the veracity of a recent observer at the October Frat meeting that Abe Rosenblatt used seventeen handkerchiefs in one evening. If they were ladies' georgette hankies, where did he get so many? Or maybe the fellow who reported it in the Omaha column of the November Frat will get an adding machine for a Christmas present. He needs one.

The annual football clash between the Iowa and Nebraska schools, Saturday evening, November 15th, at the I. S. D., was one of the most hotly contested games ever played and also "upset the dope." Iowa was previously slaughtered by Kansas, 53-0. Kansas beat Nebraska, 7-0. The N. S. D. team was a heavy favorite over the Iowans, but when Pettit, of Nebraska, had been touched by the ball behind the Nebraska goal line, a few seconds after the second half had opened, Irvan Woodruff, of Iowa, threw himself on it and scored a touchdown. "A rolling football gathers no score." Skalicky gave the Iowans a 7-0 score and the biggest upset. It was a blow for our boys. The crowd gasped in amazement, for it had expected some kind of a big shut-out score for the Iowa lads, who fought as never before. Skalicky was the star of the game, always punting far and true. While Nebraska had the ball most of the time, Iowa put up a mighty stiff game to keep her goal-line uncrossed. The whole I. S. D. went wild over the outcome, but while sorely tried, the Nebraska boys were good losers and proved themselves fine sportsmen. They displayed superior strength and made 9 first downs with Iowa's 4, but lacked the final punch to advance the ball a few more yards to a touchdown.

Mrs. J. Schuyler Long entertained the Midwest Owls in her apartment at the Iowa School on Saturday afternoon, November 22d. A short business session was held and plans for raising money for the scholarship fund were discussed. Mrs. Lily M. Treuke and Miss Katherine Marks were the winners at bridge, and a dainty and delicious supper was served. Mrs. Dorothy Long Thompson, of Lincoln, assisted her mother, and Miss Hazel Holmes was another guest. Mrs. Thompson's husband has charge of all the freshmen in the Teachers' College of the University of Nebraska. Perry Seely, Jr., is in his Senior year.

Mrs. Mark Bishop, nee Sophia Maeck, enjoyed a visit with her parents in South Omaha, the early part of November. She left for Milwaukee the 16th. Her husband works in a Chevrolet factory there. They expect to go back to his farm near Bouton, Ia., in the spring.

So "Kitty Kat" of Boston is now "Mrs. Tom Cat." Here's wishing them good luck and no scratches.

James Noble, an I. S. D. graduate, now living near Mitchell, S. D., is one of the best horse, cattle and hog callers in his State. He has won several prizes in calling contests, although he was in an encounter with a mad bull two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rutledge spent the week of November 21st in Omaha, visiting relatives and friends. They drove from Liberty, Mo., where Floyd had been working, and will go back to Texas, where he has another job for the winter.

The Fontenelle Literary Society has a considerable sum of money in the treasury, having gotten its rent free for several years, through the courtesy of the City Council. All members have been excused from paying dues for the rest of the season. At the November meeting on the 22d, Miss Emma Seely gave an interesting talk on Coal, telling how it was mined, graded and marketed. She told the story of coal from earliest times up to the present, giving some interesting facts about the different grades and their uses. Several short stories were told.

Rev. Beyer of Minneapolis preached two interesting sermons at the Benson Lutheran Church on Nov. 16th, when a mission festival was in progress. Dinner and supper were served by the ladies of the mission. We had the pleasure of meeting Rev. Beyer, who satisfied our curiosity by saying that the Lutherans thought it easier and more profitable to teach the nine-year course to hearing men than to prepare the deaf for the ministry, as it was expensive, and qualified theological teachers for that work hard to find. Rev. Homer E. Grace, of Denver, preached interesting sermons in Omaha and Council Bluffs on Nov. 23d. Rev. Rutherford was here the 16th.

The average person is estimated to have a vocabulary of about 5000 words. Evidently the sign language is responsible for an Omaha Frats' expression—"ungated members," meaning the uninitiated. A hearing person might infer that Old Billy had got hold of them a second time and tried to nullify his previous efforts.

HAL AND MEL.

FANWOOD

On Thursday evening, December 4th, the Fanwood Literary Association was entertained by the Junior High Class II. They gave an excellent program of stories and a debate, which was won by the negative side. Below is the program:—

1. "The Two Regicides" James Martens
2. "The Boy Who Forced Back an Army" Edith Kaercher
3. "The Little White Dog" Madeline Szernetz
4. "DEBATE:—Resolved, 'That women may perform the same labor as men.' Affirmative—Catherine O'Brien Negative—Sylvia Auerbach
5. "The Race With Wolves" Anna St. George
6. "The Snake and the Sword" Irving Auslander
7. "It is Never too Late" Katherine Duhig
8. "The Man of Solere" Alexander Ovary
9. "Atlanta" Tillie Newman
10. "The Three Wishes" Louis Johnson
11. "Cadmas and Europa" Fannie Weishous
12. "Meng Lee Mourns His Son" Vladymir Mazur
13. "The Locked Door" Helen Peters
14. "K. K. K." Sandy Tedesco

There was a basketball game in the school gymnasium last Saturday afternoon, at 3 p.m. It was played between the Fanwood second team and the Cardinals, from Yonkers, N. Y.

The second team played a good game, but failed to provide such thrills as the first team would have done. We won easily, 36 to 18. Verdecchio and Balkoski starred as forwards, with 14 and 11 points, respectively. Stahl and Stern starred for the hearing team, with 8 and 6 points each.

A game was also scheduled to be played between the first team and the Rio Club, but the hearing team did not show up.

The next game will be played in the gym on Friday afternoon, December 12th. It will be between our school team and the Curtis High School, of Staten Island. An exciting game is expected.

The Palette and Brush Club will hold its annual Christmas Card Sale in the Art Room, beginning Thursday afternoon, December 11th, till the Thursday following. The cards will be for sale at ten cents each.

HOFFMAN—BERZON NUPTIALS

On Sunday afternoon, December 7th, Miss Vera Hoffman was married to Mr. Leo S. Berzon, at the Hotel New Yorker. The maid of honor was Miss Anna Hoffman, sister of the bride, and best man was Mr. Harry Berzon, brother of the groom. The bride wore an afternoon dress of peach color and a felt hat of coral and tan shoes, and carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley, and looked so beautiful, while the maid of honor wore an afternoon dress of green and a felt hat of the same color as the dress, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The bride was given away by her mother and brother, Max, while the parents of the groom gave him away Rabbi A. F. Nash performed the beautiful ceremony both in the oral and sign language, which was well made.

Many of the relatives were present, and among the deaf, besides the bride's sister and brother, there attended the following:—

The Blue Bird Club, of which Vera is a member was present in a body—namely, Mrs. Nathan Schwartz, Mrs. Morris Kremen, Mrs. Abe Hymes, Mrs. Michael Ciavolino, Mrs. Julius Seandel, and Miss Anna Jacobs. Also Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Abramowitz, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gillen, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rathheim, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peters, Mr. and Mrs. William Sylvester, Messrs. Nathan Schwartz, Morris Kremen, Abe Hymes, Michael Ciavolino, Julius Seandel, Leopold Frey, Abraham Barr, Harry Hirsh, Moses Schnapp, Paul Murtagh and Charles Sussman. The bride attended the Fanwood school and the groom attended the Lexington Avenue school, and both were very popular among the deaf here. The couple left on a honeymoon trip of two weeks to Florida, and upon their return will reside in Valley Stream, L. I., where Leo has a thriving newspaper agency.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

A commemoration of the birthday of Dr. Isaac Lewis Peet was observed at a dinner arranged by Mr. W. S. Abrams, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, West 148th Street, on Saturday evening, December 6th. The twenty guests present were Fanwood graduates, who were personally acquainted with Dr. Peet's family.

The guest of honor was Prof. Elizabeth Peet, of Gallaudet College, Washington, D. C., who made the trip to New York by aeroplane especially for the occasion. In her interesting address, she referred to the early relatives of the Peet family with the history of Fanwood. Fifteen members of that family have been connected with the New York Institution at one time or another. Addresses were also made by Dr. Fox, Mr. Witschier, Mr. Thomas, Mrs. Barnes and Mr. Abrams.

The occasion was a striking evidence of the high esteem in which Dr. Peet's memory as a teacher and friend of the deaf is held by those who knew him, and his life-long efforts to advance the welfare of the deaf and improve their educational advantages.

MARGRAF CLUB WINS

Despite great loss of the services of John Kostyk, veteran and star guard, who went into permanent retirement, Coach Louis Farber's Margraf Club basketballers overwhelmed the Lexington A. A. by a large margin of 40 to 28, on its home floor on Tuesday night, December 2d. Farber used a Knute Rockne system by sending the second team in the opening fray. Both teams scored no points for nearly five minutes. In the second quarter, the regulars were put in the game and started to sport quickly. At the end of the first half the score, of 16 to 9, was in the favor of the winners.

At the third period, the reserves and the Lexingtons battled a fierce and hot game, but the losers made a sensational comeback by tying the seconds with 28 to 28.

Five minutes to go in the last quarter, the coach rushed the first team into the contest. Captain E. Kerwin and Nick Giordano scored many points in rapidity, thus put the Margrafs in the front with a 40 to 28 score. The losers fought gamely and furiously.

Edwin and Nick, two of the greatest players that the Margraf Club ever had in years, showed their skill with the ball, making it easy for the Margrafs to pile up points.

The Manhattan Frats held their last meeting of the year Wednesday evening, December 3d, 1930.

H. S. D. OF BROOKLYN

At the Friday night services, November 28, 1930, the Brooklyn Hebrew Society of the Deaf met at the Hebrew Educational Building. Speaker of the evening was Mr. Klienerman of the Foreign Film Exchange.

He spoke about what is happening to the silent films. He told the group of about seventy people about how all the old silent films are being bought by foreign countries, where they change the script to their own language. Mr. Klienerman is the only man in the business who has access to the foreign films and is producing them. He promised the organization the silent films for the coming year, and the free use of a projector. The expression of joy on the faces of these handicapped people at receiving a gift to a favored recreation, which they had been deprived of by the advent of the talking movies, was enough to repay Mr. Klienerman for his trouble.

Mr. Klienerman was introduced by Mrs. Mandel, a worker of Mrs. John Smith's Deaf Committee for the Brooklyn Section, National Council of Jewish Women. Mrs. Mandel spoke to the group about the loss of Mrs. Smith's father, Mr. Edward Calgut, and thanked them in Mrs. Smith's name for their kind thought in sending a Committee with a basket of fruit to the bereaved family.

The Council is now planning a movie show for December 14th at the Hebrew Educational Society Building, and a Chanukah dance and movie for the evening of December 31, 1930.

H. A. D.

The H. A. D. Bazaar held at the Community Centre last Saturday and Sunday, December 6th and 7th, proved a decided success in every respect.

Eager "shoppers," both deaf and hearing, thronged the merchandise and refreshment booths, with the result that a handsome profit was realized, part of which will be devoted to the special relief and unemployment cases among the destitute deaf.

So many persons have generously contributed towards the success of this affair, that it would be quite unjust to name them for fear of possible omission.

The committee, however, wishes to take this means of expressing its heartfelt thanks to all who have assisted in this worthy project.

Mrs. Esidor Feder, from Jamaica, L. I., went to New Haven Ct., on the 29th of November, and met many of her old friends from the Mystic Oral School at the ball. They were glad to see her again, and then Mr. and Mrs. Sol. E. Pachter, Mrs. Bessie Levy and Mrs. Esidor Feder went to West Haven, Ct., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Syrotiak overnight. They had dinner and a big party, at which many fine games were played. Many friends were there, and all had a great time.

Saturday, December 6th, there was a surprise party given by Ha-Ha Club to Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Lebow on the anniversary of their wedding, at home of Mrs. Lebow's parents. About eighteen guests attended. They received some useful gifts.

Mr. Lebow was graduated from the Lexington school and also was a former student at Gallaudet College. Mrs. Lebow was formerly Miss Dora Whitman. She was graduated from the Fanwood school.

Henry J. Mueller, of Astoria, L. I., was in Canada with his brother-in-law last week. They went up there in a big truck and brought back about a thousand Christmas trees. They were among "those out of work, and as Christmas is almost here, they hope to make something out of it. On their way there they passed the Malone school, and Henry says he thinks it an ideal site for such a school.

Saturday evening, December 13th, the Literary Committee of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League, will entertain its members on guests with a movie and other features. This will be the last meeting for the year 1930, but they expect to have another meeting in January, before their terms expire on the 15th of January.

Ere this issue of the JOURNAL goes to press, the pocket billiard tournament of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League will have concluded. Those who have not finished will have themselves to blame, as eight months has been time enough for all to have played their games out.

Miss Sadie Schatten, of Brooklyn, N. Y., became engaged to Mr. Max Garinkel, of Newark, N. J., on October 19h, 1930.

Osmond Loew has not been at his "case" now for several weeks. He underwent a minor operation, which affected his throat. He is now almost recovered, and will soon be back to work, which he would rather do than idle the time away.

Columnist O. O. McIntyre in the New York American says:—

"A silent movie theatre for the deaf would pay. It was this column that predicted the success of a newsreel theatre eight years ago. And a stock boom last July."

BORN—A baby-girl, weighing 7 lbs and 7 oz., on Tuesday, December 2d, 1930, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Florentine.

So far as known, only two deaf-mutes of this city, who are unemployed, are selling apples, like the thousands of hearing people who have to do something for a living. Though there are several deaf-mutes unemployed, so far as is known, none have been in the bread-line of benevolent societies. This is very creditable to the deaf.

On Wednesday of this week, Mrs. Harry Lynch, accompanied by Mrs. Joseph Call, went in her automobile to Providence, R. I., to stay for a week's visit with their home folks of Little Rhody.

Since Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Amiel have settled down to housekeeping in the Borough of Brooklyn. Amiel is seldom seen at the club. He says that he has settled down to the comfort of home life, same as he used to in dear France.

BETROTHED—Miss Minnie Fredson and Mr. Victor Coopersmith, on the 23d of November, 1930.

Syracuse, N. Y.

Mr. James Lynch, of Liverpool, N. Y., a suburb of Syracuse, and Stiles Woodworth of Syracuse, are enjoying an enforced vacation, which they neither desired nor had asked for. A factory which deals in automobile accessories and in which they had been employed for upwards of twenty-five years, finally decided to pack up "bag and baggage" and move to Toledo, Ohio. And as the two gentlemen named above both have comfortable homes of their own and did not care to locate in the Buckeye state, they will look for other jobs. In the meantime they will remain in their respective homes, lending a helping hand to the Misus, running the electric washer and help to keep the "home fires burning."

A bowling team of deaf men, composed of Messrs. J. Lewis, G. Lewis, S. Garbett, A. Garbett, and C. Leach, of Binghamton; and a Syracuse team composed of Messrs. Herlan, Mancino, C. Strahl, T. Hinchey, and Lenn, with Messrs. John Sears and Bushart acting as subs for several of the men later in the game, played at a large bowling alley in Syracuse on Sunday, December 7th. Syracuse won in three games, score 853 to 179. It was planned to have a Syracuse-Utica game on December 14th, at the same place, but we believe it has been postponed.

Mr. Amelio Tusco, of Binghamton, is employed at Johnson City, for a publishing company and has been there for over a year. He is a graduate of the class of 1928, Rome school.

The Ladies' Guild of Trinity Church held a business meeting at the home of Mrs. Clyde Houze on December 5th. A report of the past year was given out, which showed the financial resources to be in a thriving condition. It was decided to hold the annual Christmas entertainment on December 27th, and the venerable Santa Claus has promised to be present. A neat sum was realized by the Guild at their church supper in November, which speaks well for the committee, composed of Mrs. J. Fred Keller, Mrs. Grace Wasse and their aides. The annual election of officers took place on December 5th, at which time Mrs. J. Fred Keller was elected president; Mrs. Ralph Neilsen, vice-president; Mrs. Geo. Root, secretary, and Mrs. Carl Ayling was unanimously re-elected as treasurer for the third consecutive year.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hemstreet are back in Syracuse, after spending the Thanksgiving holidays at Canton. They and baby, Robert, will remain for some time with the parents of Mrs. Hemstreet, Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Merrill. Mrs. Merrill is planning to go to Washington, D. C., to spend the Yuletide season with her other daughter, Mrs. Thelma Stewart.

A crowd of twelve deaf from Syracuse motored through the slush and rain to Rome on December 6th, to attend an entertainment sponsored by the Rome Alumni Association. All report a very enjoyable time, and are loud in their praises of the hospitable Rome deaf. The affair was under the able leadership of Mr. Myershoffer, of Boonville, and his capable committee.

Among the Syracusans were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lee, Mr. and Mrs. James Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ayling, the Misses Selma and Clara Schmidt, and others, who did not give us their names.

"PITTI-SING."

Rest in Peace

Charles Wesley Fox, who had been suffering from a complication of diseases for several months passed away on December 3rd, at the home of his son and daughter in Buffalo, N.Y., and was buried in Elmawn Cemetery, that city on the fifth, the Rev. Herbert C. Merrill, of Syracuse, officiating.

Mr. Fox, who was a native of Indiana, was in his seventy-third year. He was educated at the Indianapolis school. Besides his son and daughter, he is survived by his widow, who was Lorena B. Street.

Ontario, Canada

JOHN RUTHERFORD BYRNE

In the death of John Rutherford Byrne, the deaf throughout the country lose a warm and staunch friend, and a devoted Christian worker. When apparently on the way to recovery following an operation, he was suddenly seized with a relapse, from which he died on November 21st. The deceased was born in London, England, on December 23d, 1866, and had lived another month would have attained the age of sixty-four. He was the eldest son of the late John R. and Mrs. Byrne, who emigrated from old London to our land of promise and plenty, when the deceased was but four years old, and the family settled in Oshawa, but in a few years moved to Hamilton, where they permanently settled. At an early age the deceased attended the Belleville school, where he received a very good education and on his graduation he decided to see more of the outside world, so struck for the golden west, working his way up. First he worked in Winnipeg, then the following centres in order, Verdun and Portage La Prairie, Man., Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Vancouver and Nelson, B. C. After spending several years in the west, he returned to Ontario for good. On May 2d, 1903, at the old Bible Training School in Toronto, known to thousands of the deaf, as our former place of worship, he was united in holy wedlock to Miss Annie Fraser, of Toronto, known throughout the land as our famous and matchless Interpreter and Deaconess to the deaf, and a graduate of the famous Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. For over thirty-five years the late Mr. Byrne had associated himself very closely with our church work, and was a very gifted speaker. Upon the death of our much missed friend, the late Mr. Philip Fraser, four years ago, Mr. Byrne was appointed superintendent of our new church, though he was superintendent a year before at the T. B. T. school, and held that position for three years, and a year ago was chosen Ontario Mission Convenor, which he held up to the time of his death. During his tenure of this office, he expanded our country mission tenfold and today it is very evenly scattered throughout the province. In taking over this portfolio, he found it rather a different task to work out, but he put his shoulder to the wheel and ungrudgingly ploughed his way through the troubled reefs with tact and wisdom, and now the good Lord calls him to a higher task as his reward. Besides his widow and three children, John Fraser and the Misses Dorothy and Ruth Byrne, he also leaves two brothers, Joseph R., of Hamilton, and Frank M., of Toronto, and four sisters, Mrs. F. R. Rogers, of Buffalo; Mrs. W. E. Galloway, of Hamilton; Mrs. F. H. Payette, and Miss Winifred Byrne, of Detroit. The funeral, which was held on November 22d, was the largest that was ever held at our church, the edifice being crowded to the doors with scores standing in the hallways. All his brothers and sisters were at this funeral and strange to say, this was the first break in the family outside of his parents. The service was conducted by four well-known clergymen—namely, Rev. A. L. Richards, of Whitby, formerly our moderator, the Rev. Dr. Lewis, Rev. Mr. Watch and Rev. Principal R. McNichol, of the Toronto Bible Training College. Rev. Mr. Richards spoke very highly on the deceased's noble Christian character and lauded him as a great leader among the deaf in his vineyard, as well as a man of kindly traits and cheerful spirits. Mrs. Ernest Peterkin very ably interpreted throughout. The remains were conveyed to Mount Pleasant Cemetery and interred in a grave on the slope of a beautiful hill. The pallbearers were, by the deceased's wish, all members of our Board of Trustees, and were as follows: Messrs. G. W. Reeves, W. R. Watt, F. Terrell, F. E. Harris, W. Hazlett and A. Forrester. Since his death, Mrs. Byrne has been deluged with messages from sympathy friends throughout the country—a mute test of the love all had for the deceased. Our outside missions were well represented as follows: Mrs. A. S. Waggoner and Norman Gladwin for Hamilton, Mrs. J. A. Moynihan for Waterloo-Kitchener, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McKenzie for Aurora, Miss Ada James for Belleville, J. R. Newell for Milton, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bell for Oshawa, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Averall for Cookstown, and others. The casket was submerged under an avalanche of wreaths of every size and description from far and near, including the Hamilton, Brantford and Kitchener Missions, our church, the Catholic Society of this city, and from individuals. A very pathetic and touching tale in connection with his death came to light. For years past, the late Mr. Byrne had often gone into the homes of the needy and sore bereft with soothing words of cheer, comfort and Christian advice, and among those who felt these rays of help and sweet solace was Mr. W. J. Ross, who on learning of his benefactor's demise ordered one of the largest and most beautiful wreaths of all at the funeral. Mr. Ross cannot forget Mr. Byrne's many acts of kindness performed and virtually unknown to others. Strange is it but true, the late Mr. Byrne and the late Mr. A. E. Smith, of Brantford, were schoolmates at Belleville, and on leaving the halls of learning, both went west together, bunking in together and bearing each other's hardships, and now they have both set out on their last and endless journey, almost at the same time, to explore the scenes that no earthly mortal's eyes have seen. To the memory of the deceased, Mr. Byrne, the writer humbly applies these lines:—

O, Brother dear, you're sleeping on,
We cannot hear your breath
Nor can we speak to you again
This is the seal of death.

We little thought when leaving home
You would no more return,
That God your soul would soon reclaim
And leave us here to mourn.

We did not know what pain you bore,
We did not see you die,
We did not know God's call would come
Ere we could say goodbye.

The blow was great, our grief severe,
Its pangs, a cutting spell,
But God's great love endureth more
Than human voice can tell.

Upon these waves of life oft tossed,
With fear on every side,
With piercing howls to din the storms
And foam the angry tide.

But now in perpetual ease you rest,
In God's great love beyond the skies
Where beauty smiles eternally,
And pleasure never dies.

In that dear realm, our heavenly home,
Where many mansions stand,
Prepared by hands divine for all
Who seek that promised land.

Beyond this storm, beyond this gloom,
Shines forth His light of morn,
"O brightly gleaming from His home
To cheer your soul forlorn.

Where you can lay your troubles by
And there your Saviour meet,
Where you can find the joys that lie
In His reunion sweet.

Where last farewells are sounds unknown,
Shines forth His light of morn,
And then behold, on sands of gold,
Our loved ones gone before.

HERBERT W. ROBERTS.

Greensburg, Pa.

There was considerable rejoicing among the silents hereabouts that Gallaudet College defeated St. Francis College in a game under the floodlights at Johnstown Stadium on Friday night, November 21st, by a score of 7 to 6.

November 7th, Dominick Casa, of Mt. Pleasant, died from shotgun wounds sustained, while he was examining a gun on the Casario farm, near that place. He was a pupil at the Edgewood school. He peddled packages of needles with a great deal of success, so we are informed.

Rex returned home from Ligonier, where he spent the week-end with friends. He is loud in praise of the bracing weather he enjoyed in that historic valley town.

Miss Lillian Hernley, a student at the Edgewood school, was in town on her way to her parents in Scottsdale recently. Miss Hernley called at the Tribune-Review office to see her uncle, who is one of the linotype operators therein.

George E. Chatham, of Altoona, came down here and was the week-end guest of your correspondent. He apprised us that his brother, Charles, has been confined to his bed as the result of having a stroke, with little hope of recovery.

Miss Lydia M. Newingham, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mack, of Penn Station, and Mr. Roy H. Nordstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Nordstrom, of Latrobe, were wedded on Wednesday afternoon, November 19th, at 2:30 o'clock in Christ Episcopal Church, this city. Rev. Henry J. Pulver, missionary of Millersburg, read the marriage ceremony in an impressive manner, in the presence of the members of the families, relatives and friends of the couple. The ring service was used. Miss Josephine Hartzell, of Ligonier, was bridesmaid, while Abe Nordstrom, hearing brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. Nordstrom and his bride motored to the home of the bride's grandparents in Pennsylvania, where a delicious wedding supper was served, with reception afterwards. In the evening the happy couple left on a short honeymoon. Upon their return they will stay at the home of the groom's parents in Latrobe for the present.

The bride has resided with her grandparents in Pennsylvania for a number of years, and is well known in this community, and was a former student in the Western Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf at Edgewood. Mr. Nordstrom is well-known in local deafdom and is employed in a commercial and job printing establishment in this city, which position he has held for several years. He is also a graduate of the Edgewood school. The numberless friends of the bride party in this western part of the State wish them happiness and prosperity for the future. The bride was the happy recipient of numerous beautiful and useful wedding presents.

Among the deaf guests at the marriage ceremony were: Mrs. Harry O. Fox and baby, and Frank Widaman, of Greensburg; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hartzell, of Ligonier; Mrs. F. F. Haley, of Jeannette; and Miss Sadie Sarp, of Latrobe.

Coyle Smith, of Frederick, Md., is for the present employed on the Lincoln Highway not far from Latrobe. Mr. Smith was for two years a student at Gallaudet College. We had the pleasure of his acquaintance two Sunday afternoons ago, after attending Rev. Mr. Pulver's religious service at Christ Episcopal Church here, and found in him quite an intelligent young man.

Your scribe is a member of the Nathaniel Greene Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, this city. On Sunday, October 26th, he, in common with several of his compatriots, motored to Saltsburg, Pa., where they enjoyed an excellent dinner in the First Baptist Church. After finishing their dinner the compatriots motored on to the Loyalhanna First Baptist Church, and attended the dedication of a monument in memory of a Revolutionary War soldier and first Baptist pastor, on the site of the old church graveyard. The dedication exercises were truly of a most impressive character, and were witnessed by a large crowd of people. After the dedication ceremony the assembly motored back to Saltsburg, where a delicious supper was served to them in the same church. They then returned to Greensburg in the evening, highly pleased what they observed and learned.

James Kirkpatrick, of Delmont, recently returned home from Ford City, where he has been working on the road for several months past. He looks the picture of health just now.

James P. Watts, formerly of Carolina, but now of Jeannette, has been, and is still employed as linotype operator on the Jeannette News Dispatch, and is doing splendidly.

Walter Kurter, of Jeannette, is employed by the American Glass Company of Jeannette. Although he never went to a deaf school, he is a semimute of more than ordinary intelligence, and is making progress in our sign language. He, with his parents, came to this country from Switzerland when he was a child.

Charles A. Chatham, well-known resident of Altoona, died Sunday evening, November 30th, at a county hospital, Hollidaysville, Pa., following a lingering illness with a paralytic stroke. The funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon, December 3d. He was buried by the side of his wife in Fairview Cemetery, north of Altoona. Mr. Chatham had made his home with his niece for a number of years. He retired about six years ago, after forty-seven years' service in the passenger shop of the P. R. R., and received a monthly pension. He was about seventy-four years old, and was educated at the old Broad and Pine Streets school, Philadelphia. The Greensburg (Pa.) correspondent could not attend the funeral, on account of the pressure of business.

Gerald Tussing, of South Jeannette, has recovered from typhoid fever. He expects to be able to resume his position in the pattermaking department of the Elliott Company, north of Jeannette, shortly.
